Leadership: As a visionary and entrepreneurial leader in the learning sciences, I am deeply committed to translating cutting-edge research into transformative initiatives aimed at enhancing learning environments to meet the evolving needs of 21st-century learners. My passion lies in driving impactful change through innovative approaches informed by the latest advancements in research, ultimately fostering environments that empower learners to thrive in today's dynamic world. I bring over 35 years of expertise in directing transformative organizations and pioneering programs aimed at tackling challenges within educational settings. My leadership journey spans diverse contexts, from an independent school to a non-profit think tank, culminating in my current role within higher education where I spearhead multidisciplinary collaborative research, shape innovative degree programs, and guide faculty governance initiatives—with dedication to engagement with my community and through a lens of diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Scholarship: An internationally recognized scholar, I have made significant contributions to understanding educator and student wellbeing in preK-12 settings. My pioneering work underscores the critical role of educators' social and emotional competencies in nurturing supportive learning environments. My seminal 'prosocial classroom model' review laid the foundation for this field. With over 5000 citations (top 1%), this work has sparked extensive exploration and has earned me press coverage, and numerous fellowships, awards, and honors.

- Grants: $31+ million in external funding, including 5 significant federal grants totaling $20+ million. Extensive record of obtaining support from private philanthropy.
- Publications: Google Scholar: Citations = 14752, h-index = 41, i10-index = 66 (May 2, 2024), 52 peer reviewed articles (4 currently under revision), 21 peer reviewed chapters, 4 sole authored books, 1 edited handbook, 4 edited special issues
- Presentations: (US and international) 42 peer reviewed scholarly presentations, 101 Invited talks and keynote addresses, 46 Invited workshops and webinars.

Teaching: I spearheaded the conception, direction, and delivery of rigorous academic programs spanning both undergraduate and graduate levels, with a focus on education and human development. Through innovative pedagogical approaches and dynamic leadership, I not only cultivated these programs but also personally instructed and mentored students, fostering a culture of academic excellence and scholarly inquiry. I have successfully mentored 23 Ph.D. students, over 100 M.Ed. students, and numerous post-docs, and junior faculty.

Service: I've demonstrated excellence in service through leadership roles in academic committees and organizations. At the school level, I've led programs and served on search committees, Faculty Councils, and sub-committees. At the university level, I've been a key leader in the Faculty Senate, the advisory council of the Contemplative Sciences Center, and multiple UVA-wide committees. Externally, I regularly contribute to national organizations such as the American Educational Research Association and peer-reviewed journals and I've led service activities, advised on policies including work with the National Academies of Science, the National Center for Complementary and Integrated Health, UNESCO, and the Education Ministry of Singapore, among others.

Fellow, Is the Good Life Political? Karsh Institute of Democracy, University of Virginia 2023-2024

Area of Specialization

I study the social and emotional dynamics of educational settings and apply this understanding to develop and test interventions designed to enhance teachers’ capacity to cultivate supportive relationships with their students and provide a supportive and engaging social and emotional context for academic learning. Aligned with this approach, I develop and test social and emotional learning curricula and interventions for preK-12 students in school settings. Based upon lifespan developmental theory, I am particularly focused on applying mindfulness- and compassion-based approaches to improving teacher and student emotional awareness and self-regulation, reducing teachers’ implicit biases, and improving teaching and learning environments.

GrantsCV Contents Hyperlinks

Current Major Grants

1. Project ENGAGE: The Impact of CARE for Teachers on Students' Success (2024-2029)
Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia
Sponsor: U. S. Department of Education, Education Innovation and Research, #S411B230020
Amount: $7,999,651
Role: Principal Investigator
ENGAGE aims to implement, replicate, and take to scale the Cultivating Awareness and Resilience in Education (CARE) professional learning (PL) program, a mindfulness-based emotion skills psychoeducational program for teachers shown to significantly improve student motivation, engagement, and reading competence and to promote teacher well-being and supportive teacher-student interactions.
2. Project CATALYZE: The Impact of CARE + PATHS on Students' Success (2019-2024)
Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia
Sponsor: U. S. Department of Education, Education Innovation Research, #U411C190159
Amount: $4,400,000
Role: Principal Investigator
Project CATALYZE will examine whether a well-tested social and emotional learning program (SEL) called the PATHS Curriculum is more effective when teachers receive the Cultivating Awareness and Resilience in Education (CARE) professional development program, shown to improve teachers' social and emotional skills, classroom interactions and student engagement.

1. Compassionate Schools Project (2014-2023)
Principal Investigator: Patrick Tolan, University of Virginia
Sponsor: Consortium of private individuals and foundations including Robert Wood Johnson Foundation
Total Amount: $11,000,000
Role: Co-Investigator
This cluster randomized controlled trial will evaluate the impact of the Compassionate Schools Curriculum, a health and physical education program, on student social, behavioral and academic outcomes in 46 elementary schools.

Current Subawards

1. Development of the Orienting Positive Emotions in New Educators for Mathematics (OPEN for Math) Professional Learning Program
Sponsor: National Science Foundation # 2404929
Principal Investigator: Leigh McLean, University of Delaware
Role: Principal Investigator
This project is a Level 2 Discovery Research initiative to develop and test the OPEN for Math PL program, designed to enhance beginning teachers' abilities to create a positive mathematics classroom environment and promote high-quality instruction.
2. Third Coast Learning Collaborative: Developing an Inquiry-Driven Model of School
Principal Investigator: Chris McNutt, The Human Restoration Project
Sponsor: U. S. Department of Education, Education Innovation Research #S411C230217
Amount: $3,978,888
Principal Investigator: Tara Hofkens, University of Virginia
Role: Investigator
This project aims to implement practices, structures, systems, and policies with educators focused on interdisciplinary project-based learning and portfolio-based, feedback-driven assessment centered on improving social-emotional health and academic achievement.

Current Pilot/Seed Funded Projects

1. Assessing implicit racial bias among teacher candidates: A replication study (2022-2024)
Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia
Sponsor: UVA EHD IDEA Grant
Amount: $10,000
Role: Principal Investigator
This study aims to develop and test a protocol to assess teachers' implicit racial bias utilizing video and eye-tracking software.

Current Consulting

3. Promoting the Social and Emotional Well-Being of Head Start and Early Head Start Education Staff through the Cultivating Awareness and Resilience in Education (CARE) Program (2021-2026)
Principal Investigator: Yoonkyung Oh, University of Texas

Sponsor: Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families (ACF) # 90YR0132

Amount: $2,142,438

Role: Consultant

The goal of this 5-year project is to evaluate the efficacy of the CARE program in Head Start settings.

2. Cultivating Awareness and Resilience in Education (CARE) for Special Educators: Supporting Educator Capacity and Well-Being to Promote Positive Student Outcomes (7/1/2021 – 6/30/2026)

Principal Investigator: Jennifer Frank, Pennsylvania State University

Sponsor: Institute of Educational Sciences # R324R210020

Amount: $3,966,426

Role: Consultant

The goal of this 5-year project is to the goal of the current study is to replicate previous CARE research findings and determine whether the beneficial effects from prior evaluations hold true for special education teachers and their students with disabilities.

Prior Major Grants

1. Improving Classroom Learning Environments by Cultivating Awareness and Resilience in Education (CARE): A Cluster Randomized Controlled Efficacy Trial (2012-2018)

Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia

Sponsor: Institute of Educational Sciences #R305A120180

Amount: $3,435,882

A multi-site cluster randomized trial to test the direct effects of the CARE program on teachers, classroom interactions and students' behavior and academic achievement. The study is examining whether the program has differential effects on students and teachers at risk.

2. Compassionate Schools Curriculum Development Project (2014-2016)

Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia

Sponsor: Hemera Foundation

Amount: $100,000

To develop an evidence-based K-5 health curriculum that integrates social and emotional learning, mindfulness, nutrition and yoga.

3. Cultivating Awareness and Resilience in Education (CARE) (2009-2012)

Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, Pennsylvania State University

Sponsor: Institute of Educational Sciences #R305A090179

Amount: $489,250

An IES Goal 2 project to refine the Cultivating Awareness and Resilience in Education (CARE) professional development program for teachers and to test the feasibility and efficacy of the program for reducing teacher stress, promoting social and emotional competence, and improving the quality of classroom interactions.

4. Cultivating Emotional Balance in the Classroom (CEBC) (2007-2009)

Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, San Francisco State University

Sponsor: Fetzer Institute

Amount: $238,790

To examine the impact of the Cultivating Emotional Balance training on teachers' well-being and the quality of their observed classroom interactions.

5. The Cultivating Emotional Balance (CEB) Project (2004-2006)
Principal Investigator: Margaret Kemeny, Ph.D.
Sponsor: Fetzer Institute
Amount: $3,567,000
Role: Project Director
A randomized controlled clinical trial of the Cultivating Emotional Balance (CEB) program, which combines contemplative practices and emotion skills instruction. The study examined the impact of CEB on a sample of school teachers' emotion regulation in response to a series of stressors in a laboratory setting. The project involved three three-hour laboratory assessments to track salivary cortisol, immune factors, and autonomic nervous system reactivity.

Prior Subawards

1. ParentCorps Effectiveness in Early Education Centers: Teachers Thrive - Impact on Teachers Thrive (2018-2020)
Principal Investigator: Laurie Brotman, New York University
Sponsor: Einhorn Family Charitable Trust
Role: Co-Investigator
Subaward Amount: $33,000
Teachers Thrive examines the impact of the ParentCorp professional development programming on teacher stress and well-being and classroom interaction quality.
2. Trajectories of Teacher Stress: The Roles of Coping and Prior Exposure to Trauma (2017-2020)
Principal Investigator: Holly Brophy-Herb, Michigan State University
Sponsor: NIH- National Institute of Child Health and Human Development
#R21HD090406-01A1
Role: Co-Principal Investigator
Amount: $441,541
This study examines Early Head Start teachers' work stress and coping over the school year using ecological momentary assessment methodology.

Prior Pilot/Seed Funded Projects

1. Assessing Implicit Racial Bias Among Teachers: A Replication Study (2022-2023)
Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia
Sponsor: Foundation IDEA Award
Amount: $10,000
Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia
Sponsor: Foundation IDEA Award
Amount: $10,000
2. The Compassionate Schools Project – Charlottesville (2018-2019)
Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia
Sponsor: University of Virginia, 3 Cavaliers Project
Amount: $60,000

Partnered with Charlottesville City Schools to pilot a mindfulness-based health curriculum, develop and test a protocol to examine student health outcomes, and pursue funding for a larger study.

3. A Brief Mindfulness Intervention for Reducing Pre-Service Teachers' Stress Associated with Managing Challenging Student Behaviors (2015-2020)
Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia
Sponsor: Foundation IDEA Award
Amount: $10,000
A randomized controlled experiment to examine the impact of a brief mindfulness intervention on pre-service teachers' stress associated with simulated challenging student behaviors compared to an active control condition.
4. Move This World/Metro Nashville Public Schools: A Pilot Study (2017-2019)
Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia
Sponsor: Move This World
Amount: $50,000
To examine the impact of the Move this World online tools on teacher well-being and middle school student academic learning.
5. The Compassionate Schools Project Charlottesville (2018-2019)
Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia
Sponsor: 3 Cavaliers, Office of the Vice President for Research, University of Virginia
Amount: $60,000
Role: Principle Investigator
A pilot study to explore the feasibility of delivering a mindfulness-based health curriculum in the Charlottesville City Schools, develop and test a protocol to examine student health outcomes, and pursue funding for a larger study.
6. Teaching Mindfulness in Schools: A Mixed Method Study of Teachers' Mindfulness Practice, Professional Knowledge, Perspectives and Experiences (2017-2019)
Principal Investigator/Mentor: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia
Student Investigator/Mentee: Polina Mischenko, University of Virginia
Sponsor: Mind and Life Institute
Amount: $19,695.00
This study explores the role that teachers' professional knowledge and embodiment of mindfulness through practice play in their experience delivering a mindfulness-based health and wellness curriculum.
7. Implementation, Diffusion, and Impact of Mindfulness-based Programming in One School District (2017-2019)
Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia
IDEAs Faculty Research Seed Fund
Amount: $30,000
A case study of the Charlottesville City School district's initiative to integrate mindfulness-based programming for teachers and students into their multi-tiered systems of support.
8. A Brief Mindfulness Intervention for Reducing Pre-service Teachers' stress associated with managing challenging student behaviors (2016-2018)

Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of Virginia
Sponsor: Innovative, Developmental, Exploratory Awards (IDEA), School of Education, University of Virginia
Amount: $10,000
Role: Principal Investigator
A pilot study to examine the efficacy of a brief mindfulness practice for (1) reducing stress associated with pre-service teachers' exposure to challenging student behavior, and (2) improving behavior management.

9. Integrating Contemplative Practice with Mentoring to Empower Adolescent Girls: The Young Women Leaders Program (2014-2016)
Principal Investigator: Edith Lawrence, University of Virginia
Sponsor: Contemplative Sciences Center, University of Virginia
Amount: $11,000
Role: Co-Principal Investigator
A pilot study to explore the impact of adding contemplative components to an existing mentoring program for at risk middle school girls.
10. Using Artificial Intelligence to Accelerate Student Mastery of Effective Interpersonal Communication and Conflict Resolution Strategies (2014-2015)
Principal Investigator: Jennifer Frank, Pennsylvania State University
Sponsor: Penn State University, Center for Online Innovation in Learning (COIL)
Amount: $49,875
Role: Co-Investigator
A project to develop and pilot an online tool designed to promote teachers' supportive interpersonal communication and conflict resolution strategies using artificial intelligence.
11. CALM Teachers: Comprehensive Approach to Learning Mindfulness - Daily Stress Reduction Program for Teachers (2012-2015)
Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, Pennsylvania State University
Sponsors: 1440 Foundation and Pennsylvania State University Children, Youth, & Families Consortium (CYFC)
Amounts: 1440 Foundation $136,395, CYFC $20,000
To develop a brief, daily program for educators combining mindful awareness practices and yoga and to test the feasibility and efficacy of the program for reducing stress in a pilot randomized controlled trial involving middle school educators. Collected diurnal saliva (assayed for α -amylase and cortisol levels) and blood pressure to examine biological impacts of the intervention.
12. Supporting the Social and Emotional Competence of Novice Teachers and Their Mentors (2009-2010)
Principal Investigator: Mark T. Greenberg, Pennsylvania State University
Sponsors: Pennsylvania State University Children, Youth, and Families Consortium (CYFC)
Amount: $20,000
Role: Co-Principal Investigator
To examine the feasibility and efficacy of the Cultivating Awareness and Resilience in Education professional development program for reducing stress of novice teachers and their mentors.
13. Creating Sanctuary Within (CSW) (2008-2009)

Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, Garrison Institute

Sponsor: Kellogg Foundation

Amount: $50,000

To examine the feasibility of integrating the Cultivating Awareness and Resilience in Education (CARE) program into professional development for teachers and support staff at a residential facility supporting children exposed to trauma employing the Sanctuary Model of trauma-sensitive programming.

14. The Classroom Project: An Extension of the Cultivating Emotional Balance Project (2005-2006)

Principal Investigator: Patricia A. Jennings, University of California, San Francisco

Sponsors: Mind and Life Research Institute Varela Award, Fetzer Institute

Amounts: Varela Award $10,000, Fetzer Institute $10,000

A pilot study to examine the impact of the Cultivating Emotional Balance training on the observed quality of teachers' classroom interactions.

Recent Course Development and Teaching

University of Virginia, School of Education and Human Development

2021 – present EDIS 5013 Teaching Social and Emotional Learning – Developed a new course that introduces the knowledge and skills to teach or supervise others to teach social and emotional learning (SEL) formally and informally including mindful awareness practices to students in preK-12 school settings. Reviewing the latest research, students will learn effective strategies for teaching SEL and mindfulness to children and teens. Applying instructional design questions, students will design a series of lessons that are developmentally and culturally appropriate for their students.

2020 – present EDIS 5015 Social and Emotional Learning – Developed a new graduate level course that introduces current research on the social and emotional development of students and teachers in educational settings. It also presents students with the current theory underlying social and emotional learning (SEL) curriculum and programs and the empirical research on the efficacy of such programs. We will apply theoretical principles drawn from a variety of disciplines, including developmental and educational psychology, neuroscience, biology, and health to examine the multiple individual and contextual mechanisms and processes that promote the development of social and emotional competence across childhood and adolescence in the school context.

2019 – present EDIS 5014 The Trauma-Sensitive Classroom – Developed a new online graduate course designed to provide educators with the knowledge and skills teachers need to support students exposed to chronic stress and trauma. Students learn about the effects of trauma on body and mind, and how to recognize them in students' behavior. They are introduced to a variety of evidence-based classroom practices that support students' healing, build their resilience, and foster mindfulness and compassion in the classroom.

2018 – present EDIS 4012 Advanced Mindfulness in Health and Human Development – Developed a new advanced undergraduate course intended to follow EDIS 3012 Mindfulness in Health and Human Development. Students will continue the development and refinement of their personal mindfulness practice, build upon their understanding of applications of mindfulness for cultivating their own well-being, and resilience and for helping others. They will learn the pedagogy and teaching methods associated with mindfulness-based interventions that have been scientifically proven to promote physical and mental health and build skill in teaching and leading such practices.

2017 – present EDIS 3012 Mindfulness in Health and Human Development – Developed a new undergraduate course designed to integrate cutting edge science with practical applications for students preparing to work in caring professions. Students are introduced to a variety of mindful awareness practices and the research on their effects as a means to promoting well-being and building supportive relationships in professional settings. The course is intended for students enrolled in the Youth and Social Innovations program and the Health and Well-Being Minor. This course was offered for the first time during the spring semester of 2018. Due to the constraints of the classroom space, the course was limited to 30 students. The course was so popular that there was a waiting list of 10 students who were not able to get into the course that semester. The course was offered again in the fall semester 2018 with a waiting list of 5.

2016 – present EDIS 5012 Mindfulness for Teachers – Developed a new online graduate course for graduate students and teacher professional development, designed to integrate cutting edge science of mindfulness with practical classroom applications. By focusing on the social, emotional, and cognitive demands of teaching, the course is designed to help teachers develop the competencies to orchestrate healthy and supportive classroom dynamics, boost their enjoyment of teaching, and cultivate their students' love of learning. This course was offered for the first time during the summer session 2017. We limited the class to 20 students to begin with and the class filled immediately. It was offered again in the fall of 2017 to a full class. It will be offered again during the summer session 2018. I have co-taught this course with doctoral students Anthony DeMauro (since graduated) and Polina Mischenko.

2014 – 2017 EDIS 5011 Classroom Management and Behavior Assessment – Developed a new graduate level course that is part of the Elementary Teacher Education Program designed to develop an understanding and application of classroom and behavior management techniques, community building, and behavioral assessment. It has been offered every semester since the spring of 2014. Class sizes have ranged from 30 to 36 students and two sections are typically offered. Depending upon the semester, between 2014 and 2017, I taught the course or supervised a doctoral student instructor. Typical class size is 30.
