YPAR Collaborative Session Exit Ticket

Objective

Exit tickets are a quick and easy way to learn what worked well and what can be improved at the end of each collaborative working session. These 'mini-surveys' give both adults and youth a chance to provide feedback so that changes can be made each session to improve the quality of work, increase productivity and strengthen relationships.

Instructions for Completing

Instructions for completing exit tickets:

- ➔ First, circle the number that best describes how much you agree with the statement.
 - “1” - “Struggled with this, needs improvement for next time”
 - “2” - “On the right track, but could use a few tweaks”
 - “3” - “This went well, let’s keep it up”
- ➔ Next, provide additional information to clarify/explain why the rating was selected.
 - If you selected “1”, briefly explain what did not go as well and/or how the research team can improve in future meetings.
 - If you selected “3”, briefly explain what went well and/or why it should be continued in future meetings.
- ➔ At the beginning of each collaborative working session, five minutes will be spent reflecting on what was learned from the feedback and what changes will be made to improve the sessions.

Exit Ticket

Circle the number that best describes your experience during today's YPAR collaborative working session. Then, use the lines to share additional information about why you chose the number and/or give an example of what it looked like during the session.
